

I was very disappointed to learn that the FCC plans on allowing Sinclair broadcasting to go ahead with a blatant political commercial for their candidate of choice just days before the election. This is nothing more than a paid political commercial, and is probably in violation of Federal Election Laws, yet the FCC refuses to intervene. Boy if we could only get them to say a curse word or have George Bush licking whipped cream off of some nubile young woman, then you'd take action!

Please revoke Sinclair's license to broadcast, and turn these stations over to legitimate broadcasters without political agendas.
